PERSONAL MESSAGE FROM OSE'S ACADEMIC ADVISOR

LENNY KOFF, PH.D.

You are about to begin an educational experience that will give your future a meaningful direction: meeting others from places around the world, talking with them about issues of international consequence, listening to the views of those who may have different perspectives on life. Listening to others deepens everyone.

I know you will take advantage of your time at OSE:

- In one-on-one engagement with tutors where you can branch out on your own.
- Outside class, meeting others socially, forming friendships that will matter forever.

The result: an educational experience that is solid academically, helping to hone such educational skills as expressing ideas in persuasive ways.

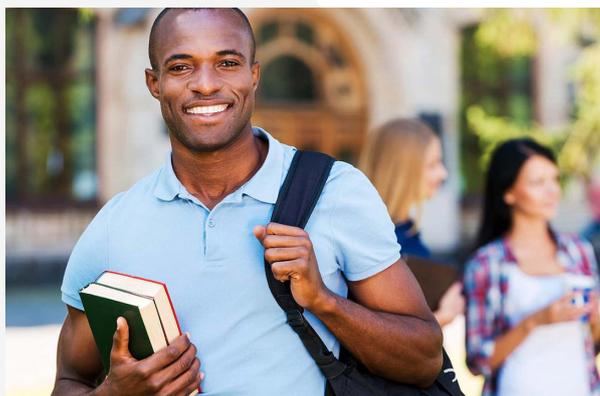

At OSE you will meet people who will make a difference in your life and in turn you will make a difference in their lives. The future—your future—begins here on the campus of Oxford University.

“NUTS-AND-BOLTS”

Mornings include lectures, discussions, and roundtables, followed by ample free time to meet others and become acquainted with all that Oxford has to offer. We have excursions to Oxford's major sites and attractions and the places accessible from it. For example:

- The Bodleian Library
- Ashmolean Museum
- Oxford Natural History Museum
- Museum of the History of Science
- Oxford (Debating) Union
- Blenheim Palace (Winston Churchill's Birthplace)
- Cambridge
- Windsor Castle
- Stonehenge
- Cotswold Wildlife Park
- Bicester Village
- Stratford Upon Avon (Shakespeare Birthplace)
- And of course London

Believe in Yourself

Believing in yourself can be challenge. So many things can seem to work against your sense that you are on the right path.

But knowing that everyone doubts himself or herself at one time or another will make you know that you are not alone. Knowing this is the beginning of success. Knowing this means you are on your way.

Confirming that you know what you know is the ground on which you—on which anyone—builds self-esteem.

Choose Your Direction

Perhaps the most anxiety-creating circumstance is not knowing what you want to do. It's not easy to choose a direction. But choosing one, even if you determine later that this is not your direction, is the beginning of entering your future.

Not beginning, not starting, is the problem, even if what you begin turns out not to be where you thought you wanted to go. You can always change direction, but you can only change direction as you are moving forward.

You can begin slowly and if you do, you will pick up speed.

Building on Excellence

Everyone starts with small successes: honors well-deserved, honors acknowledged. Success breeds confidence. Success breeds success. Knowing you are excellent because others have acknowledged you, empowers you to move higher, enables you to create a self-pyramid.

You can move higher and higher up the ladder of the self-confidence, the ladder of excellence where the air is clear and bright.

You can be the architect of your own power that others will recognize.
